

May 14, 1976

STASER:

I would like to have someone take a check on how the Defense Department does in people stationed in foreign language countries. What percentage of their defense establishment people, military and civilian speak the language. Is it improving or is it getting worse? I would like to kind of chart that and see what this Department can do to improve the number of people who speak the language.

