

December 29, 1976

STASER:

At some point I ought to talk to George Brown about his comment to Jimmy Carter that there were no SALT violations when Carter asked down in that room the other day. It's been bothering me. I indicated at the time that I didn't agree that there were some violations but as far as I was aware of a technical nature, but nonetheless, violations. But Brown didn't say anything and it concerns me.

Note to GB
on 12/29.

Done

