MEMORANDUM FOR:

BOB ELLSWORTH

I just looked over this January 27, 1976 Colby memo. It seems to me that one of the things that you and George ought to be thinking about is the following:

in view of our view of the world, as reflected in the first sections of the shipbuilding program and my Defense Report, are the things in Colby's memo the kinds of things we ought to be doing? Are there other things we ought to be going? Are there instances here where we are putting out the wrong message?

You ought to think this through and see that we are getting the proper focus.
