

6 February 1976

Will someone please get me today the approach that Alan Greenspan is using with the Budget Committee concerning the general economic picture and how the Defense Dept. fits in it, either a copy of his testimony or statement or whatever it is, but call over there today and get it. Dick Cheney made reference to it last night, and I definitely want to have it promptly, and certainly before noon today so that we can see that it fits with our Budget statement before Monday.

